Intimées

DEMANDE DES INTIMÉES SEATGEEK, INC. ET UBERSEAT
POUR PERMISSION DE PRODUIRE UNE PREUVE APPROPRIÉE
(Article 574 C.p.c.)

À L'HONORABLE KIRKLAND CASGRAIN, J.C.S., LES INTIMÉES SEATGEEK, INC. ET UBERSEAT EXPOSENT RESPECTUEUSEMENT CE QUI SUIT :

I. Introduction

1. Le 26 mai 2016, le demandeur Steve Abihsira a déposé une demande intitulée Re-Amended Motion to Authorize the Bringing of a Class Action and to Ascribe the Status of Representative (la « Demande »), par laquelle il demande l'autorisation d'exercer un recours collectif contre neuf (9) intimées, dont SeatGeek, Inc. (« SeatGeek ») et UberSeat (les « Intimées SeatGeek ») pour le groupe et les sous-groupes plus amplement décrits au paragraphe 1 de la Demande.
2. Aux paragraphes 6 et suivants de la Demande, le Demandeur allègue que les intimées auraient violé la Loi sur la protection du consommateur, RLRQ c P-40.1 (la « LPC ») et d'autres dispositions législatives en (i) chargeant toujours un prix plus élevé que le prix annoncé et (ii) en vendant des billets à un prix plus important que celui indiqué sur le billet.
3. M. Abihsira n'allègue pas avoir acheté un billet sur les sites des Intimées SeatGeek, mais il l'aurait fait chez une autre intimée, le 23 août 2015.
4. Au paragraphe 2 de la Demande, M. Abihsira fait référence aux sites web, applications mobiles et centres d'appel des intimées, sans toutefois détailler le processus de vente de chacune des intimées.

5. Aux paragraphes 32.5 et suivants, M. Abihira allègue que les intimées (à l'exception d'UberSeat) chargent un prix plus élevé pour des billets que le prix annoncé à la première étape du processus de vente et fait une démonstration du site web www.stubhub.com comme illustration.
6. Or, à leurs faces mêmes, les sites web de SeatGeek et de UberSeat, ainsi que l'application mobile de SeatGeek ont un modus operandi différent que celui retrouvé sur www.stubhub.com.
7. En réponse à ces allégations, SeatGeek et UberSeat souhaitent présenter chacune une preuve pertinente au débat sur l'autorisation de l'action collective proposée, à savoir un interrogatoire sur certains sujets décrits ci-après, de courtes déclarations sous serment, ainsi qu'une preuve documentaire complétant les allégations des paragraphes 32.5 et suivants de la Demande.

II. Interrogatoire du Demandeur

8. Les Intimées SeatGeek souhaitent interroger le Demandeur sur les sujets suivants:
  - a. sa connaissance des faits entourant la vente de billets sur les sites SeatGeek.com et UberSeat.com;
  - b. son statut de consommateur et les circonstances l'ayant amené à acheter un billet sur internet et son préjudice, le cas échéant;
  - c. les circonstances dans lesquelles il a donné son accord pour agir à titre de Demandeur, l'enquête qu'il a faite et les démarches d'identification des membres du groupe proposé;
  - d. sa capacité de représenter adéquatement les membres du groupe, incluant ses connaissances sur la situation de membres qui auraient contracté avec SeatGeek et UberSeat ou d'autres intimées que l'intimée Stubhub, Inc.
9. Cet interrogatoire permettra au tribunal de contrôler le sérieux des allégations, de déterminer si les critères de l'article 575 C.p.c. sont satisfaits et, si nécessaire, de définir le(s) groupe(s) approprié(s) et les questions qui peuvent être traitées collectivement.
10. Les Intimées SeatGeek soumettent qu'il est dans l'intérêt de la justice qu'elles puissent interroger le Demandeur hors Cour sur ces sujets, estimant qu'une durée de 60 minutes devrait suffire à cet égard.

III. La présentation d'une preuve appropriée par la production de déclarations sous serment et de preuve documentaire

11. Bien que le Demandeur fait référence aux sites web et applications mobiles des intimées, il ne reproduit pas le processus de vente de SeatGeek ou de UberSeat.
12. Les Intimées SeatGeek souhaitent donc produire deux déclarations sous serment :
  - (a) Une première qui fournira un portrait du processus de vente de SeatGeek et qui sera accompagnée de copies des pages pertinentes du site internet de SeatGeek.com et de son application mobile, sous forme de captures d'écran en couleur, afin d'avoir un portrait de son processus de vente;
  - (b) Une deuxième qui (i) fournira un portrait du processus de vente de UberSeat et qui sera accompagnée de copies des pages pertinentes de son site internet sous forme de captures d'écran en couleur et (ii) expliquera la relation entre UberSeat et SeatGeek.
13. Ces documents permettront de visualiser l'information disponible pour le client à l'écran, ce qui permettra d'étudier les critères de l'article 575 C.p.c. en pleine connaissance de cause, plutôt qu'en utilisant une allégation incomplète et inexacte.
14. Un projet de déclaration sous serment de Brad Tacy de SeatGeek est joint à la présente demande comme Annexe A, avec les pièces SG-1, en liasse et SG-2, en liasse à son soutien.
15. Un projet de déclaration sous serment de Brad Tacy de UberSeat est joint à la présente demande comme Annexe B, avec la pièce US-1 en liasse à son soutien.
16. Les déclarations sous serment et les pièces à leur soutien seront utiles pour étudier les critères de l'article 575 C.p.c., identifier, au besoin, les questions qui seront traitées collectivement et déterminer la description du groupe aux fins de l'article 576 C.p.c.;
17. Il serait contraire aux intérêts de la justice que le tribunal analyse la demande d'autorisation sans avoir une version complète des processus de vente des Intimées SeatGeek, qui ne sont pas du tout présentés dans la Demande;
18. Les Intimées SeatGeek demandent l'autorisation de présenter ces éléments de preuve, afin de pouvoir être pleinement entendues au stade de l'autorisation.

POUR CES MOTIFS, PLAISE À LA COUR :

ACCORDER aux intimées SeatGeek, Inc. et UberSeat la permission d'interroger hors Cour le Demandeur sur les sujets identifiés au paragraphe 8 de la présente demande, pour une durée approximative de 60 minutes;

PERMETTRE à l'intimée SeatGeek, Inc. de produire une déclaration sous serment similaire au projet joint à la demande comme Annexe A, ainsi que les pièces SG-1, en liasse et SG-2, en liasse à son soutien;

PERMETTRE à l'intimée UberSeat de produire une déclaration sous serment similaire au projet joint à la demande comme Annexe B, ainsi que la pièce US-1 à son soutien;

LE TOUT, frais à suivre.

AFFIDAVIT OF BRAD TACY OF SEATGEEK

I, the undersigned, BRAD TACY, employee of SeatGeek, with a place of business located at 400 Lafayette Street, 4th Floor, in New York City, State of New York, United States of America, 10003, solemnly declare the following:

1. This Affidavit covers only the secondary-market sale of tickets to customers on the SeatGeek.com website.
2. I am Vice-President, Finance for the Respondent SeatGeek, Inc. ("SeatGeek").
3. I am advised that a Re-Amended Motion to Authorize the Bringing of a Class Action and to Ascribe the Status of Representative (the "Motion") was filed against SeatGeek.
4. SeatGeek is a Delaware corporation, with its head office and principal place of business located in New York, New York, in the United States of America. It has no place of business, nor operations in Quebec.
5. SeatGeek is a ticket search engine that searches dozens of ticket platforms and presents the results in one place.
6. SeatGeek also allows persons to place listings for tickets directly on its platform.
7. In all cases, tickets sold on SeatGeek.com are not owned by SeatGeek.
8. As such, a contract for the sale of event tickets on SeatGeek.com is made directly and exclusively between seller and the purchaser.
9. SeatGeek.com is a marketplace which lists tickets belonging to other people on its website, and earns a margin after the sale has been completed between the seller and the purchaser.

10. SeatGeek does not operate a call center through which customers can purchase tickets.
11. The Motion refers to the SeatGeek.com website and mobile application, but does not show what information is available on each available page, nor how it is actually displayed on a computer or mobile device screen.

The SeatGeek.com Website

12. I attach to the present affidavit, as Exhibit SG-1, a screenshot taken on June 30, 2016 which shows how the purchase process looks like on an actual computer screen.<sup>1</sup>
13. The customer sees a price for the first time at Step 3, where he or she sees that tickets are available for an event on a certain date, and the lowest price of tickets available for that date, with the lowest possible ticket price indicated in the format "From $XXX". If a customer later chooses to purchase the least expensive ticket, the price of this tickets will be the same both at Step 3 and at the time of purchase, i.e. the price will be an "all up" price including all fees.
14. Upon clicking on the event date, the customer sees available tickets and ticket prices to an event (Step 4) at which time the customer can select the tickets s/he wants. The price of those tickets will be the same both at Step 4 and at the time of purchase, i.e. the price will be an "all up" price including all fees.
15. On choosing the section and price, the customer is brought to the transaction screen (Step 5), where the customer enters his or her personal information and concludes the transaction.
16. In all cases, the price advertised to customers is always the same as the advertised price for that ticket as all prices include all fees.

The SeatGeek Mobile Application

17. I attach to the present affidavit, as Exhibit SG-2, a screenshot taken on July 21, 2016 which shows how the purchase process looks like on an iPhone mobile device.
18. The customer sees a price for the first time at Step 3, where he or she sees that tickets are available for an event on a certain date, and the lowest price of tickets available, indicated in the "$XX+" format. If a customer later chooses to purchase the least expensive ticket, the price of this tickets will be the same both at Step 3 and at the time of purchase, i.e. the price will be an "all up" price including all fees.

19. Upon clicking on the event date, the customer sees available tickets and ticket prices to an event (Step 4) at which time the customer can select the tickets s/he wants. The price of those tickets will be the same both at Step 4 and at the time of purchase, i.e. the price will be an "all up" price including all fees.
20. On choosing the section and price, the customer is brought to a summary screen (Step 5), which reviews the details of the purchase.
21. Upon clicking "Proceed to Checkout", the customer is brought to the transaction screen (Step 6), where the customer enters his or her personal information and concludes the transaction.
22. In all cases, the price advertised to customers is always the same as the advertised price for that ticket, as all advertised prices include all fees.
23. All the facts alleged herein are true.

AFFIDAVIT OF BRAD TACY OF SEATGEEK FOR UBERSEAT

I, the undersigned, BRAD TACY, employee of SeatGeek, with a place of business located at 400 Lafayette Street, 4th Floor, in New York City, State of New York, United States of America, 10003, solemnly declare the following:

1. This Affidavit covers only the secondary-market sale of tickets to customers on the UberSeat.com website.
2. I am Vice-President, Finance for SeatGeek, Inc. ("SeatGeek").
3. UberSeat is a trade name owned by SeatGeek, a Delaware corporation, with its head office and principal place of business located in New York, New York, in the United States of America. Neither UberSeat nor SeatGeek have a place of business, nor operations in Quebec.
4. I am advised that a Re-Amended Motion to Authorize the Bringing of a Class Action and to Ascribe the Status of Representative (the "Motion") was filed against UberSeat.
5. UberSeat is a marketplace that aggregates the inventory of brokers who place listings on other platforms and presents the results in one place.
6. SeatGeek earns a margin after the sale has been completed on UberSeat.com between the seller and the purchaser.
7. In all cases, tickets sold on UberSeat.com are never owned by SeatGeek.
8. SeatGeek.com also lists tickets from UberSeat.com.

9. SeatGeek and UberSeat do not operate a call center through which customers can purchase tickets and there is no UberSeat mobile application.

The UberSeat Website

10. The Motion refers to the UberSeat website, but does not show what information is available on each available page, nor how it is actually displayed on a computer.
11. I attach to the present affidavit, as Exhibit US-1, a screenshot taken on June 30, 2016 which shows how the purchase process looks like on an actual computer screen.<sup>1</sup>
12. The customer sees a price for the first time at Step 4, after he or she has chosen an event date. At this stage, he or she sees that tickets are available for an event, and sees the identity of the seller.
13. Upon clicking on the event date, the customer is given a series of ticket offerings (Step 4) at which time the customer can select the tickets s/he wants. The price of those tickets will be the same both at Step 4 and at the time of purchase, i.e. the price will be an "all up" price including all fees and taxes.
14. On choosing the section and price, the customer is brought to the transaction screen (Step 5), where the customer enters his or her personal information and concludes the transaction.
15. In all cases, the price of the ticket purchased in the last step is always the same as the first advertised price for that ticket at Step 4, as all prices include all fees.
16. The format of the UberSeat website has not changed since 2012, and, all prices listed for sale to users have always included fees. No additional fees or charges were added later in the transaction, and SeatGeek has never charged a price higher than that advertised at any stage of the transaction on UberSeat.com.
17. All the facts alleged herein are true.
