CORRECTED JUDGMENT

[1] Considering the judgment rendered on November 23, 2020;¹

[2] Considering that there is an error in writing at the introductory portion of paragraph 3 of the said judgment, which, to properly introduce the citation relied on by the Court, should read as follows:

[3] The filtering role of the Court called upon to authorize a class action needs little discussion. It is clear and has been well resumed by the minority reasons of Justice Gascon in the Supreme Court of Canada's judgment in L'Oratoire Saint-Joseph du Mont-Royal v. J.J.:

[3] Considering article 338 C.C.P.;

WHEREFORE, THE COURT:

[4] CORRECTS the judgment of November 23, 2020 by replacing the introductory portion of paragraph [3] with the following:

[3] The filtering role of the Court called upon to authorize a class action needs little discussion. It is clear and has been well resumed by the minority reasons of Justice Gascon in the Supreme Court of Canada's judgment in L'Oratoire Saint-Joseph du Mont-Royal v. J.J.:

[5] WITHOUT JUDICIAL COSTS.

THOMAS M. DAVIS, J.S.C.
